Building this system one component at a time … that's EnviroAI.

Quantum AI Environmental Protection System

Building incrementally toward a quantum artificial intelligence environmental protection system … one feature at a time … that's EnviroAI.

—"Nature is a quantum system. With advancements in quantum computing, sensing, and communication—along with artificial intelligence to manage and understand the massive amount of data that will be generated—we as humans will be able to dynamically protect the environment. Humanity is about to enter an environmental renaissance period. Environmental protection will become very simple. It's an incredible world we are living into." - Jed Anderson, Creator, EnviroAI
