Relief?

The AL Law Group and Ceres AI are teaming to help companies obtain environmental regulatory relief as a result of the health/financial crisis.

---"Whether its finding exemptions, alternative methods of control, or just different interpretations of the law that do not have a negative environmental affect … there's millions of dollars in relief available. Such relief can provide needed financial relief to help employees, and also free-up resources for critical environmental tasks. The AL Law Group uniquely utilizes artificial intelligence to help identify opportunities, and legal and consulting expertise to help secure the opportunities."—The AL Law Group PLLC
